READINGS FOR SUNDAY OCTOBER 9, 2022 TWENTY- EIGHTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

First Reading: 2 Kings 5: 14-17

Second Reading: 2 Timothy 2: 8-13

Gospel: Luke 17: 11-19

FOCUS: The Lord has done great things for us.

Today's readings invite us to reflect on our gratitude for what God has done for us, particularly through Christ. It begins with acknowledging that it is the Lord who has acted on our behalf. Such recognition can in turn lead us to a greater appreciation for God's greatness, to a deeper faith, and to true worship.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

In the first reading, Naaman is healed after following Elisha's instructions to plunge himself into the Jordan seven times. Afterward, he pledges to offer sacrifice only to the Lord. Paul writes to Timothy that it is the Gospel of Jesus Christ for which he is suffering, even to the point of chains, like a criminal. In the Gospel, Jesus is traveling through Samaria and Galilee when ten lepers call to him, Jesus, Master! Have pity on us! Jesus tells them to go show themselves to the priests and the lepers are healed while on their way. Only one leper, a Samaritan, returns to give thanks to Jesus.

Dear Friends:

To see a World in a Grain of Sand
And a Heaven in a Wild Flower
Hold Infinity in the palm of your hand
And Eternity in an hour

So wrote William Blake in his 19th-century poem, "Auguries of Innocence." It's a wonderful, difficult piece that keeps before us the clashing visions of innocent idealism and cynical experience. Yet these first four lines of the poem have commanded the greatest attention for generations of readers. They came to mind as I was learning about the new James Webb Space Telescope (JWST), which promises to peer back through the mists of time to a period not long after the Big Bang. Astronomers explain that for the first test of the telescope, they chose a random section of sky which, to all appearances seemed "empty"; a space about the area of a hole in a straw. The JWST has several innovative features. These include a mirror consisting of 18 gold-plated panels that fit together perfectly, and a deployment of about one million miles from earth at a temperature only a few degrees above absolute zero. The effect of these elements is to produce a photographic resolution so clear and dramatic as to change forever our picture of the universe in its earliest days. Peeling back eons of time, scientists discovered in the "empty" space tens of thousands of galaxies, and therefore countless opportunities for human beings to explore and appreciate God's creation. We see how people of reason use the tools at their disposal to behold reality, quite literally, through their own "lens"...

...as do others, of course. In his 1999 "Letter to Artists," Pope St. John Paul II discusses the mission of artists, which is analogous to God's action when creating the world. While God is (T)he one who creates (and) bestows being itself, he brings something out of nothing...The craftsman, by contrast, uses something that already exists, to which he gives form and meaning. This is the mode of operation peculiar to man as made in the image of God.

In fact, says the Pope, artists with unusual sensitivity can detect the inner connection between beauty and goodness. That is, God imparts to great artists a "spark of his wisdom" that helps us all appreciate the reality of "beauty/goodness" (kalokagathia) appealing to both the intellect and will.

The question for me is: what role do the "rest of us" play, who lack exceptional scientific expertise or artistic skill? Ultimately, both scientist and artist rely on data that comes through the senses. But, as Pope John Paul reminds us, "The knowledge conferred by faith is of a different kind: it presupposes a personal encounter with God in Jesus Christ." This is what happens to Christians every Sunday when we come before God at Holy Mass, and spend one precious hour, as the poem suggests, "in Eternity."

Faithfully,
Fr. Valentine

ADULT EDUCATION: ST. MATTHEW'S GOSPEL/INTRO TO LITURGY

Beginning on Wednesday, October 12, at 7 PM in the Church basement on 110 Bryant Avenue—and continuing on successive Wednesdays—Fr. Valentine and Fr. John Mendonca will conduct evenings of adult education. Fr. Valentine will focus on the Gospel of Matthew, and Fr. Mendonca will explore the meaning of the Liturgy: the Church's public worship. Each session will last one hour. For those who would like to attend the class in person, we will have an informal atmosphere, and for those who cannot attend, we will be live-streaming the course. The topics to be discussed will appear in the Sunday bulletin.

(The link is: <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCa131ntUy0WD7g7fp1j6ZPQ>)

You are welcome to attend as many sessions as you like, and these will be archived for people to review later. The only material you need is a Bible. The version we will use is the New American Bible (Catholic Bible Publishers, 1970), but you may bring any Bible you have. In addition, we will make available the Power Point Slides for each class, so that you may prepare for—or follow along with—the presentation. The link is found on the St. Mary's website. You can access it here:

St. Matthew's Gospel is the Gospel the Church will hear throughout the next liturgical year. We urge you to attend our classes and listen to the Lord Jesus speaking to us through the Scriptures.

TOWNHALL MEETING CONCERNING THE ST. MARY'S CONVENT

On Thursday, October 13, 7 PM at Msgr. Ryan Hall, 440 Round Hill Road, East Hills, the Parish will hold a Townhall meeting to discuss the future of our Convent. We have been approached by a Catholic Organization, Good Counsel Homes, to establish a location in East Hills to service the needs of expectant mothers in need and their children. Please attend this evening, and bring your questions and concerns, so that we might best serve the most vulnerable in our society: the unborn. Thank you!
